CHARLES EDWARD GETS BIG STAKE

De Mund Is Beaten in National Stallion.

PALM ROOM BROKE HER NECK

Jockey Heider Internally Injured When She Fell in International Steeplechase.

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, L. June 2.—It is conservatively esti-mated that the public dropped $200,000 in the betting ring today when Sydney Paget's Charles Edward came home in front of the Rainey brothers' $45,000 crack colt DeMund in the National Stallion Incidentally the Raineys lost $30,000 on the race.

It was what the many race goers are pleased to term the biggest racing day of the year-the occasion of the run-ning of the National Stallion Stakes of $20,000 and the International Steeple-chase. Judged by the size of the crowd and the avalanche of money in the ring, such was the case.

The throng of Decoration Day only was comparable to the mighty mob which visited the course today. The grandstand, the general inclosures, and the paddock were crowded, probably 45,-000 persons being on the grounds at the time the field of highly-strung two-year-olds went down to the post for the start in the National Stallion Stakes. Mare Killed Herself.

A sensational accident in the International Steeplechase, when Palmroom fell over the last jump in full view of the grandstand and field stands, broke her neck and injured internally Jockey Helder, threw a damper on the whole day's racing. Palmroom won a steeple-chase race only a few days ago at sensational odds, but was badly beaten when she fell today. Herculoid, at 7 to

The weather was a bit warm, while the track was never faster.

Trainer Weir was afraid to start the Kinley Mack colt Mintia in the opening selling race. Mintia was scratched, and Yazd, the three-year-old colt owned by W. F. Schulte, of Louisville, was made a split favorite with King's Gem, at 8 to 5. It was easy for Yazd. He wo

Score of 6 to 5 After Eleven Hard Innings-Michael's Twirling the Feature-Field Star at the Bat and First.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 2.—The baseball game played here today be-tween the All-High School team of Washington, D. C., and the Princeton Freshmen was won by the former in a heart-breaking contest of eleven innings

The game was marked by the master The game was marked by the master-ly twirling of Michael, of the All-High, who held his opponents down to five scattered hits. Eight errors were con-tributed by his team mates. Field's play at first was a big help to his in-field, saving it several wild throws, and his hitting was a potent factor in the victory of the Washingtonians.
